

BIOBASED CHEMISTRY & TECHNOLOGY CHEMIETAGE 2024 23.-25. Sept.

Expected for the meeting in the facilities of TU Graz, Neue Technik:

Number of participants:	400+
Scientific scope:	Academic as well as industrial research
Origin of participants:	Primarily Europe
Special interests:	All areas of chemistry

The event is located in the center of Graz and has excellent connections to the public transport system of the city.

The location provides state-of-the-art facilities for both presentations and exhibitions; professional assistance to equip your booth can be provided upon request.

In addition to the possibilities to extend contacts to your regular customers, a meeting of this size enables the unique chance to present your company to a large number of potential new clients. Therefore, the organizers have taken special care to implement the complete exhibition area into the conference activities (Welcome mixer, coffee breaks, poster sessions) so the communication between exhibitors and participants is maximized.

As the organizers of the conference we would like to draw your attention to the exhibition and sponsoring opportunities related to the conference.

The following bundle options are offered as general guideline; however, the packages are open to individual adaptations to your particular requirements.

This event is organized by the Austrian Chemical Society (GöCH)
